

CheeBeng (or simply CB) is a Technical Specialist of CSA group for the Hitech business unit. He started his career as a power supply design specialist in 2003 for Panasonic Electronic Devices in designing and evaluating power supply for various information technology product ranging from DVD players, LED/PDP TV, projectors and gaming machines. One of his responsibility also included product safety and EMC design for PSU. In 2007, he took up the challenge by joining Underwriters Laboratory as an engineer evaluating various products utilizing IEC/CSA/UL 60950-1, 60065, 62368-1, UL1741, UL1703, etc. In 2017, he joined CSA group as a Certification/Technical Specialist supporting the global operations through work-sharing and technical review, including lab qualification and accreditation. He has built-up experience of over 18 years in manufacturing companies and certification bodies with extensive exposure in consumer and power-related products.